Not illustrated. 1891 Excerpt: . includes in the curriculum a carpenter s shop, horticulture, gymnastics and those muscular exercises called out-door games. The modern educator sees that the whole of human nature is trained to excellence. His eye watches the pupils in every department, to note who is deficient in this or that talent, and he then aims to stir it into activity by special tasks. To suit a boy for his future life his mind, hands, feet, eyes, and ears all go through contemporary training. Western civilisation of the Christian type is now being taught to the Chinese in the missions. They are not by any means instructed in dogma only. The missionary periodicals and translated works on science shew that the Protestant missionary agency is wide in its scope. So also the schools embrace a very wide curriculum. Dr. Mateer, for example, at Tuugchow takes his pupils through a twelve years course; and some very well skilled mathematicians and electricians have left his school after going through the whole of that course of study. Dr. Nevius also has introduced great improvements in fruit culture in Shantung. These instances in the activity of one of the missions shew what a wide scope is embraced in the Protestant missionary propaganda of this century. Such being the mode of development in the evangelical agencies of our time, the proposition to found agricultural and other industrial missions will not be likely to appear strange or unreasonable when brought before the executive Boards...
